ATTENTION!---MR. MAN!!*D. J. Kaufman Says:*Quality Up!*Price Down!

You'll notice that prices are being advanced on all lines of merchandise. Perhaps this is justifiable—but the prices are not raised at The Man's Store—and they're not going to be raised this season.

It's the farsighted merchandising—"months-ahead" buying—to get the same standard qualities—that enables us to quote the same low prices—with the same guarantee of Money's Worth or Money Back.

Convincing Argument!

Just when you expect to pay more

MINES BUREAU AIDING MOVE FOR PURER "GAS"

Lends Co-operation to Retail Merchants in Vigorous Campaign.

The campaign inaugurated by the Retail Merchants' Association for purity in gasoline is soon to receive substantial aid from the Bureau of Mines. Members of the association learned yesterday that this bureau has had the subject under investigation for several months and is about ready to issue a report that will be of interest to every user of gasoline in the United States.

At the request of the general supply committee the bureau has been engaged in drawing up standard specifications for the purchase of gasoline by the government, which uses about 50,000 gallons each year in Washington.

"These specifications, while intended for the use of the Federal government, will be available to the general public," said Van H. Manning, director of the Bureau of Mines, last night. "They will constitute a guide for the public which it has not had before. Of course, it will be impossible for the average motor car owner to test his gasoline to see whether or not it is up to the specifications, but you will find, I think, that when the Federal specifications become well known, the gasoline dealers will be purchasing their oil according to specifications, and that they will be willing to assure the consumer that he is obtaining gasoline that fills the proper requirements."

"The Bureau of Mines has had this problem under investigation for some time, and within a month will issue its first report on the subject, a technical paper on the physical and chemical properties of gasoline sold throughout the United States in 1915. Some time later the bureau will issue for the benefit of the public its specifications and methods of analyzing gasoline, based largely on the results obtained as the result of the analysis of gasoline in the first report."

WASHINGTON COLLEGE OF LAW BEGINS WORK

Twenty-first Session Opened at New York Avenue Institution.

The twenty-first session of the Washington College of Law was opened last night at the college hall, 1317 New York avenue, with an enrollment that surpassed all previous figures of the institution.

Miss Emma Gillette, dean, presided. Chief Justice Stanton J. Peck, retired, of the United States Court of Claims, Prof. Harry Hickey, Judge M. M. Doyle, Prof. G. Maddox, Prof. Thomas Patterson, and the registrar, George A. McDonald, spoke. Ellen Spence Mussey, founder, told of the constant increase of the student body and the faculty. Miss Helen Jamieson, a professor in common law pleading, and historian of the alumni association, announced that the first copy of the record giving a complete register of the alumni and various college statistics would be issued in October.

Following the opening, the alumni and former students held a reunion, extending a warm welcome to Mrs. Mussey, who had not been present at an opening for four years.

NEW PARALYSIS CASE FOUND IN DISTRICT

An additional case of infantile paralysis was reported yesterday from a district which previously had been free of the disease. The patient is a girl, Jean Riversol, of 4123 Conduit road, 1 year and 8 months old.

Health Officer W. C. Woodward last night said no special significance is attached to the fact that another case has been reported.

"Under normal conditions," he said, "we have sporadic cases during the winter months."

The health officer's statistics show that in September of 1915 there were four cases, while in September of this year to date there have been six cases, two of which were contracted elsewhere. In other words, the September record of cases this year is no greater than that of 1915. In the same month in 1913 there were two cases reported, and in 1914, one.

RAIN DELAYS Y. W. C. A.
CORN ROAST PROGRAM

The corn roast of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., which was to have taken place at Vacation Lodge, Cherrydale, Va., last night, was postponed because of wet grounds. It will be held tonight. Four large sacks of "roastin' ears" and enough wood to cook them and furnish light for the entertainment were waiting on the lawn when the rain came. The program tonight will include songs and games. About 175 young persons are expected to be present.

TO HASTEN PANAMA MAILS.

Robert L. Maddox Sent to Isthmus to Improve Service.

Superintendent of Foreign Mails Robert L. Maddox has been sent to the Isthmus of Panama by Postmaster General Burleson to make additional arrangements for handling United States mails with greater safety and expedition after their receipt at the Isthmus in transit to South and Central American countries.

For the last three or four years special effort has been made to improve and extend the postal facilities from the United States to South and Central America, with gratifying results. During the last fiscal year there was a marked increase in the weight of Postal Union mail, comprising letters, newspapers and commercial papers, dispatched from this country to South and Central America.

Aid for Jews in Roumania.
New York, Sept. 23.—The provisional executive committee for General Zionist affairs has made arrangements for the organization of a committee in Roumania to have charge of the distribution of money sent by American Jews to their relatives in that country.

NEW YEAR SERVICES

Prayers for the forgiveness of their sins marked the last day of the two-day celebration of Rosh Hashanah, or Hebrew New Year, among Orthodox Jews of the District.

DAHLIA SHOW UNHURT BY SHORTAGE OF SEEDS

One of the most beautiful exhibitions of dahlias ever held in this section is being conducted at the home of Mrs. G. M. Wolfe, Linden, Md. It is the fourth annual show.

Although the European war has kept many of the foreign seeds away from this country this year, there is a notable increase in beauty in the domestic flower. The exhibition began Thursday and will end today. Persons desiring to see the exhibition should take the Forest Glen cars leaving Ninth and F streets fifteen minutes before and after the hour and should leave the car at Linden road.
